ABSTRACT

Two decades before the current George W. Bush, Ronald Reagan had made a national and global bully of the United States. His domestic agenda was just so much happy talk that masked a socially destructive scheme and economically unsound policy. His administration justified crimes against humanity of the heinous sort in the name of freedom, national security, and national interests in anti-communism worldwide. Time on My Hands is a novel that exposes the Reagan administration’s flaws. This time travel novel suggests that history should be altered for a better present and future, by preventing Ronald Reagan from becoming the president of the United States. This thesis will provide materials to support the analysis of the flaws during Reagan’s presidency in order to benefit readers to be able to identify the problems America faced during the Reagan years.
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Because the writer's system of belief is a harmonious combination of Unitarian Universalism and Secular Humanism, he would like to thank all the elements of nature and positive energies — directly or indirectly — that have made the making of the thesis entitled "TIME ON MY HANDS: A CRITIQUE OF THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION", as one of the academic requirement in obtaining S-1 degree at Bina Nusantara University, possible.

The writer understands that there are still many imperfections in this thesis and warmly welcomes any-annotation, suggestion, and critique that will hopefully carry this thesis to a higher league for collective benefits. Now that the writer is given space to express his bottomless gratitude, here are the honored ones who will get their names printed in this thesis (and stuck for eternity in the library):

- My mum, dad, brother, and sister; for stuffing me with yummy cooking, becoming my substitute in several house chores, technically supporting me whenever my out-of-date printer and virus prone-PC misbehaves, and lending me fully-charged notebook whenever blackout happens.
- Ma'am Ruth, the writer's mentor — of whose advice, suggestion, and support made this thesis possible. Many thanks!
- Ma'am Wiwick — the head of English Department, and Ma'am Inn — the dean of English Department. Girl Power!
- Class of 2003; hey, do you all know that at the time when we were born and still breastfed, Ronald Reagan was in charge of the United States?
