ABSTRACT

This paper discusses about a family conflict and relates to the black and white stereotypes. The writer tries to explore about white and black stereotypes in America reflected in Family Tree novel.

The research method that the writer uses is a qualitative method. First of all, the writer collected some information about Family Tree novel and the related theory. After the writer found the information, the writer started to analyze it by using elements of fiction. After that, the writer focused on analysis about stereotypes and the discussion about it. In finding the data, the writer went to Bina Nusantara Library and Library of Atmajaya.

The writer found the result of this paper that the stereotypes have two possibilities in describing something. It depended on what we beliefs. Those possibilities were positive and negative side.
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First of all, I want to thank God, Jesus Christ in Heaven, for giving me a chance to finish my final paper. Without His bless and kindness to guide me with His special way, I may be lost in making this paper.

My special thanks to my mentor, Mr. Na’fan Tarihoran, M. Hum, for giving his valuable time, effort and ideas to guide and help me to complete this paper. I haven’t enough words to say thank you for all your supports and explanation.

I also want to thank to Mrs. Jenneke Indra Dewi, M. Hum as the Dean of Faculty of Letters, and Ms. Risa Rumentha Simanjuntak, SS., MAppling., M.A. as the Head of English Department, and Ms. Tetty Mindaria Malau as the Secretary of the Department, for giving me the opportunity to write my paper.

A big thank to my beloved family. My Dad, Mr. Santo Jelani, thanks for the financial support, and my Mom, Mrs. Wahyun Sukardi thanks for the understanding and love during the process of writing this paper. Thanks for my brothers, Barata, Martin and David, and my lovely sister, Ernita, for giving me love and moral support and trusting me that I’m going to finish this final paper. I love you all.

Thanks to my best friends, Jane Rolland, Charlie, Dewi, and Andi Wijaya who always support me when I’m down, to Andri “Trungtung” and Ole, thanks for the “Bakmi pangsit”. And thanks to many other friends who always support me directly and indirectly.

And finally, I thank my beloved person Richard Young “Menye” for the steadfast support. Thanks for being around since the beginning until the end of this paper. You’re the best babe. God bless you all.

Jakarta, 28 July 2008
TABLE OF CONTENTS

ABSTRACT ................................................................. iii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ................................................... iv
TABLE OF CONTENTS ................................................... v

CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION
1.1 Background of Study .............................................. 1
1.2 Problem Formulation .............................................. 3
1.3 Scope and Limitation ............................................. 3
1.4 Goals and Function .............................................. 3
1.5 Research Methods ................................................. 4

CHAPTER 2 THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK
2.1 Elements of Fiction .............................................. 5
  2.1.1 Plot ............................................................ 5
    2.1.1.1 Exposition ........................................... 6
    2.1.1.2 Conflict .............................................. 6
    2.1.1.3 Climax ............................................... 6
    2.1.1.4 Resolution ........................................... 7
  2.1.2 Setting ........................................................ 7
  2.1.3 Character and Characterization ............................ 8
    2.1.3.1 Characterization .................................. 9
2.2 Stereotype .......................................................... 9
  2.2.1 Gender Stereotype ......................................... 10
  2.2.2 Racial Stereotype ......................................... 11
    2.2.2.1 White Stereotype in America ..................... 12
    2.2.2.2 Black Stereotype in America ..................... 12
  2.2.3 Stereotype Accuracy ...................................... 13

CHAPTER 3 ANALYSIS
3.1 Elements of Fiction ............................................. 15
  3.1.1 Plot ......................................................... 15
    3.1.1.1 Exposition ......................................... 16
    3.1.1.2 Conflict ............................................. 17
    3.1.1.3 Climax .............................................. 20
    3.1.1.4 Resolution ......................................... 22
  3.1.2 Setting ....................................................... 23
    3.1.2.1 Social Setting .................................... 23
  3.1.3 Character in Family Tree ............................... 24
    3.1.3.1 Major Characters .................................. 24
    3.1.3.2 Minor Characters .................................. 27
3.2 Stereotype ......................................................... 29
  3.2.1 Clarke’s Opinion toward Black in Family Tree ....... 30
  3.2.2 Black Stereotypes in Family Tree ..................... 35
  3.2.3 White Stereotype in Family Tree ..................... 36
CHAPTER 4  CONCLUSION ......................................................... 36
CHAPTER 5  SUMMARY (IN INDONESIA) ...................................... 42
Bibliography
Appendixes
  Summary of Family Tree .................................................... A1
  The map of Family Tree .................................................... A2
  The cover of Family Tree .................................................. A3
Curriculum Vitae