ABSTRACT

The goal of this paper is to find out the lesbianism causes in the main character’s life in externally and internally factors. The research will be done by library research consisting of two steps; these are by reading the novel and by finding sources that support the analysis through printed literature in some libraries of universities and browsing the internet. Analysis is done by using some theoretical framework in analyzing the novel to achieve the goals of the paper, which consists of some structures like textual structures and conceptual structures. Textual structures will explain about the plot, character and theme. And conceptual structures will explain some theory of lesbianism causes according to some of researchers both externally and internally factors. It can be concluded that the internal factors of lesbianism causes are the adjustment around the lesbian and her early childhood experiences. And the external factors are the lesbian’s institution and interactions with other people around her.
