Women’s role has been a controversy and has not been absent in the Christianity’s discussion. When Christianity developed many denominations, each has created its own principles in defining women’s role. Compliant with her nature, all denominations agree to regard women as important as men in the establishment of families. Unfortunately, women’s role in the Church leadership becomes another story. Originated from each interpretation of Bible, not all denominations approve any woman to take part as a priest or a bishop or any position connected to church management. Many ways have been conducted by whoever disagrees with this women’s equality. One thing for sure done by them is smearing the good nature of women in order to “protect the Church”. This topic can be exactly found in the Da Vinci Code by Dan Brown. What is interesting from the novel is not achieved by questioning the validity of the marriage between Jesus Christ and Mary Magdalene, but simply by questioning why the Church is so determined in hiding that fact by degrading Mary Magdalene as a prostitute, because actually degrading her has been one of many examples of Church’s efforts to diminish women’s role.

Jakarta, 2005
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First, I would like to thank the God for everything in my life from the beginning up to now. I love every minute of it.

Second, my gratitude goes to Dean of the Faculty of Letters of BINA NUSANTARA University, Dra. Ienneke Indra Dewi, M. Hum. Without her patience in guiding me, I will never be able to fulfill all responsibilities as a student.

Third is the Head of English Department, Dra. Wiwik Andreani, to whom I owe a great deal of appreciation for having her as my intellectual coach for many years in my college. I am very sorry for being such a burden for burden.

Then, I would like to express my deep appreciation to the former Secretary of English Department, Mr. Rudy Purwanto, M. Ed., who has been contributing thoughtful suggestions made this paper possible and I will always be grateful to him.

I am also greatly indebted to my final and last mentor, Dra. Ruth Sih Kinanti, M. Hum., who suffer through reading the entire original paper as well as many revisions and has made countless valuable comments. Without her understanding and her support, this paper will never finish.

Without doubt, I am very fortunate that such valued friends who took the time and energy to help in improving this paper. First is Jenny Bee for donating the paper guidelines. Then Rian who put a thoughtful effort in supporting and reminding me all the time, and Lusiana who has been a great friend to discuss with.

Last but not least, I am giving my big thanks and hugs to my dearest family; Mom and Dad - to whom I dedicated this paper, Sanny and Pieter for their moral supports and never ending love. I love you all.
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Abstract iii
Acknowledgments iv
Table of Contents vi

CHAPTER 1  INTRODUCTION  1

1.1 Background 1
1.2 Statement of Problem 2
1.3 Scope and Limitation 2
1.4 Goal and Function 3
1.5 Research Methodology 3

CHAPTER 2  WOMEN’S ROLE IN CHRISTIANITY  4

2.1 Introduction 4
2.2 Women’s Role in the Teaching of Christianity 5
2.3 Women’s Role in the Practice of Christianity 12

CHAPTER 3  WOMEN’S ROLE IN CHRISTIANITY IN THE BOOK OF ‘THE DA VINCI CODE’ BY DAN BROWN  23

3.1 Introduction 23
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3.2</td>
<td>The Discrimination of Women’s Role in The Christianity in “The Da Vinci Code”</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3</td>
<td>The Priory of Sion</td>
<td>33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.4</td>
<td>Leonardo Da Vinci</td>
<td>38</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CHAPTER 4</td>
<td>CONCLUSION</td>
<td>40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CHAPTER 5</td>
<td>SUMMARY (in Indonesian)</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Bibliography</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Appendix</td>
<td>48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Curriculum Vitae</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>