ABSTRACT

This paper talks about sex education for teenagers, how sex education is presented to teenagers, and what to explain about sex.

It focuses on sexual education matters that should be informed to teenagers by describing the real condition and the content of sex education for teenagers.

The theory of sexual matters emphasizes the content of sex education for teenagers, which generally gives a descriptive knowledge of sexual and emotional development and the reproductive system of teenagers and how to give sex education and what should be told to teenagers.

This study will become a useful guide for teenagers, because they are in the phase of growing up and because this is also a good guidance for parents in how to teach their children about sex.
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express my thankfulness to my lecturers at English Department, Bina Nusantara University, especially to Dra. Ienneke Indra Dewi, the Dean of the Faculty, for allowing me to write this final paper.

I am particularly grateful and indebted to Dra. Agustin Rebecca Lakawa, MS., my mentor who has given me her precious time to guide and support me through the writing of my final paper.

I would like to thank Henny E. Wirawan MHum., psi., for her precious time to be interviewed and giving me a valuable information to support this final paper.

I also thank Ma'am Wiwik Andreani and Mr. Rudy for their advice and encouragement.

I would like to thank all my friends at English Department, especially to those who encourage me to write this final paper.

Finally, I would like to give my grateful acknowledge to my family, especially my sister and also Kawi Iskandar for their support, encouragement, concern, affection, and prayers to bring this work into reality.
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Abstract .................................................................................................................. i
Acknowledgements ............................................................................................... ii
Table of Contents ................................................................................................. iii

I. INTRODUCTION ........................................................................................................ 1
   1.1 Background of Study .......................................................................................... 1
   1.2 Statement of Problem ...................................................................................... 3
   1.3 Scope and Limitation of Topic ......................................................................... 3
   1.4 Goal and Function ........................................................................................... 3
   1.5 Research Methodology ..................................................................................... 4

II. THE KNOWLEDGE OF SEXUAL AND EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND THE REPRODUCTIVE SYSTEM OF TEENAGERS ...................................................................................... 5
   2.1 Sexual and Emotional Development on Teenagers ....................................... 5
       2.1.1 Puberty in Teenagers ............................................................................. 6
       2.1.2 Sexual Development ........................................................................... 7
       2.1.3 Emotion and Relationship ................................................................... 9
   2.2 Sex and Gender ............................................................................................... 11
       2.2.1 The Difference between Sex and Gender ............................................. 11
       2.2.2 Becoming a Sexual Being ................................................................... 11
   2.3 Male and Female Reproductive System ....................................................... 12
       2.3.1 The Female Reproductive System ...................................................... 12
       2.3.2 The Male Reproductive System .......................................................... 14
       2.2.3 The Sex Disease .................................................................................. 15

III. PHASES OF SEX EDUCATION FOR TEENAGERS .............................................. 18
    3.1 Sex Education for Children Aged 9-12 Years Old ....................................... 18